He thanked his staff and deans for their service throughout the synod. He commended the Disaster Preparation and Response Task Force for their coordinated response to the disasters throughout the synod. M. Keynote Presentation

The Bishop introduced the Rev. Andrew Genzsler, Director of Advocacy, ELCA Washington Office, who spoke about the sin of individualism and our call to genuine community. The public witness of this church relies on the coordinated movement of disciples – and that relies on the function of community. He quoted Luther's Large Catechism on The Lord's Prayer, Give us this day our daily bread: "We pray for the government because chiefly through it, we receive our daily bread." We are free to make use of public office as naturally as we breathe the air, because it is an instrument and a gift of God. He stated that faith includes the whole of life, bringing us from the restlessness of St. Augustine's prayer to that of St. Frances: "Make me an instrument of your peace," away from restless individualism into community and public witness.

N. Remembrance of Essie Rowser

The Bishop introduced The Rev. Hugh Williams, who led a service of remembrance for Col. Essie Rowser, who served as our synod parliamentarian for over ten years. Col. Rowser entered the church triumphant this spring.

The Bishop called on Mr. John Lucht, Synod Treasurer, who introduced resolution 2011-05, addressing restructuring of the Linn Fund, which would shift the fund from a revolving loan fund into an endowment fund, while keeping the focus on funding mission congregations within our synod.

2011-05

Restructuring of the Linn Fund

Whereas the Dr. Charles A. Linn Memorial Fund for Synodical Missions (“the Linn Fund”) was established as a loan fund by the 1951 convention of the Georgia-Alabama Synod of the United Lutheran Church in America to honor the memory of a former synod President, the Rev. Dr. Charles A. Linn; and

Whereas the original purpose of the Linn Fund was “the aiding and establishing of mission churches on the territory of the Synod,” with current rules specifying that the fund is to “supply monies for second mortgages to emerging churches in the Southeastern Synod for first unit construction”; and

Whereas the loan amounts possible through the Linn Fund are relatively modest compared to today’s construction costs, making it unlikely that the Linn Fund can provide meaningful loan assistance for mission congregations today; and

Whereas the synod attorney has determined that reconfiguration of the Linn Fund to allow annual spending for mission congregations is legally permissible and does not violate any known donor restrictions, therefore:

it was MOVED and

to adopt that conversion of the Linn Fund from a loan fund to an endowment fund from which grants may be made, with such grants to be solely for the purpose of aiding and establishing mission congregations in the Southeastern Synod; and that the restructured Linn Fund shall be subject to the same rules regarding investments and spending as exist for the other endowment funds owned by the Southeastern Synod and that the Synod Council shall be authorized to approve any additional operating rules or procedures that may be required to implement and manage the restructured Linn Fund.

A Memorial to Churchwide Assembly Concerning Suicide Prevention

WHEREAS, “A Message on Suicide Prevention” (page 10), adopted 11/14/99 by the ELCA Church Council, urges synods to support members, congregations, and affiliated institutions in their efforts to prevent suicide; and

WHEREAS, in the years since approval of this message, a number of significant public/private suicide prevention efforts have evolved, including the National Strategy for Suicide Prevention (NSSP 2001), the Institute of Medicine (IOM) report “Preventing Suicide: A National Imperative” (2002), the Suicide Prevention Resource Center (SPRC 2002), the National Council for Suicide Prevention (NCSP 2005), the Interfaith Dialogue on Suicide Prevention (2008), the National Action Alliance for Suicide Prevention (NAASP 2010), and the ELCA Suicide Prevention Ministry, Inc. (ELCA SPM 2010); and

WHEREAS, 34,598 U.S. citizens died by suicide in 2007 (latest statistics available), with an age-adjusted rate of 11.27 suicides per 100,000 people, resulting in a projection of 507 ELCA suicides annually based on an ELCA membership of 4.5 million, which would create an estimated 10,100 new ELCA survivors of suicide annually, and suicide prevention is now a major concern of the Department of Defense and the Veterans Administration; and

WHEREAS, suicide is the third leading cause of death in college aged people (15-24), and the NSSP Objective 4.3 calls for increasing the number of colleges and universities with suicide prevention programs, and the 26 ELCA affiliated colleges and universities constitute a significant body of at risk persons, and the 2010 suicide of a pastor at Valparaiso University starkly portrays the randomness of suicide; and

WHEREAS, the federally sponsored Interfaith Dialogue on Suicide Prevention produced a consensus statement including this sentence: “The time is right for the life-enhancing strengths that are the foundation of our most ancient faith traditions to find application in preventing suffering and loss from suicide.”; and

WHEREAS, the NSSP Objective 1.2 calls for regular national conferences on suicide prevention to maintain broad-based participation and involvement in reducing the toll of suicide and generate open discussion and assessment of suicide prevention programs; and Objective 6.4 calls for increasing the proportion of clergy trained in identifying and responding to suicide risk and behaviors; and Objective 7.5 calls for increasing the proportion of clergy trained in the unique needs of survivors of suicide; and

WHEREAS, the NSSP Objective 10.2 calls for increasing the funding (public and private) for suicide prevention research, and the mission of the NAASP includes cultivating the resources needed to sustain progress, and the IOM report includes specific recommendations on needed suicide prevention research, and federal suicide prevention research funding is minimal and sporadic at best; and

WHEREAS, limited financial resources have precluded active support by the churchwide and synod offices in implementing “The Message on Suicide Prevention,” and a Suicide Prevention Endowment Fund has been established within the ELCA Endowment Fund Pooled Trust to build future financial support for churchwide and synod support of suicide prevention; and

WHEREAS, membership in a faith community is often cited as a protective factor against suicide but is not supported by any current research, and the magnitude of the problem of completed suicide within the ELCA is unknown, and factual knowledge about such problem will enable prudent application of limited resources to alleviate the problem; therefore, be it that the Southeastern Synod memorialize the 2011 Churchwide Assembly to:

It was

Voted SA11.04.09

- 1. encourage all ELCA related colleges and universities to adopt a comprehensive suicide prevention and educational program, which includes plans for immediate responses to a completed campus suicide, and appropriate ongoing support/counseling actions.
- 2. direct the ELCA Ecumenical and Inter-Religious Relations Office to support a collaborative effort with other national faith communities to request the U.S. Secretary of Health and Human Services to convene regular meetings of national faith communities for the purpose of advancing suicide prevention through the cooperative work of national faith communities.
- 3. encourage the congregations and members of the ELCA to call upon the U.S. Congress to

- convene regular national conferences of representatives from all constituencies with a vested interest in suicide prevention for the purposes of (a) promoting broad collaboration, (b) establishing priorities for the application of limited national resources, (c) engaging survivors of suicide in prevention activities that will promote their grieving and healing process, and (d) providing clergy training.
4. direct the ELCA Office of Advocacy Ministries to collaborate with other national faith communities, the NCSP and the NAASP for the purpose of promoting the development of a “grassroots” funded National Suicide Prevention Research Endowment Fund, similar to existing research funds for heart and cancer research which are largely supported by the “grassroots,” for the purpose of conducting scientific suicide prevention research as recommended by the IOM and supported by Objective 10.2 of the NSSP.
 5. encourage synods, affiliated institutions, congregations, and members to contribute to the established ELCA Suicide Prevention endowment Fund, part of the ELCA Endowment Fund Pooled Trust, for the purpose of building future financial resources for suicide prevention work within the ELCA, and providing survivors of suicide a convenient and meaningful way to honor and memorialize their loved ones lost to suicide through gifts to the Endowment Fund.
 6. direct the Office of Research and Evaluation to include, over a period of three years, in the required annual report from each ELCA congregation, a question enabling this office to determine the annual number of completed suicides in the ELCA for the purposes of (a) assessing the impact of suicide on the ELCA, (b) comparing suicide rates of the general population to the ELCA, and (c) evaluating whether or not membership in the ELCA may be a protective factor for preventing suicide.
